Letter of Compliance

Dear Customers,

The Consumer Product Safety Improvement Act (CPSIA) was passed by Congress August 2008.

The regulations state certain limitations regarding levels of lead, flammability, and phthalates. Manufactures and importers are required to certify that the products that they offer comply with all applicable consumer product safety regulations or standards under the Consumer Product Safety Improvement Act of 2008.

Please note that any product that was manufactured prior to November 2008 is not subject to the new certification requirements of the CPSIA.

In accordance with section 14 of the Consumer Product Safety Act, 15 U.S.C. 2063 (a) Classic Balloon Corporation certifies that based upon reasonable test program, the products we sell comply with all applicable consumer product safety rules, bans, regulations or standards under the CPSIA of 2008.

Please except this letter as an assurance that the products you purchase from Classic Balloon Corporation do conform to all requirements of the CPSIA of 2008.
